

The government has identified over 16,500 companies as “confirmed shell companies”, while another 80,000 are under the lens and have been put in the suspect category, the finance ministry said on Friday.